Mahopac Students Earn Hispanic Scholar Recognition

MAHOPAC – Mahopac High School seniors Nicole Maloney and Nickolas Pabon have been named National Hispanic Scholars by the 2012 National Merit Scholarship Program, according to Principal Adam Pease.

The National Hispanic Scholar award was initiated in 1983 to recognize outstanding Hispanic/Latino high school students and to share information about them with interested colleges and universities. Nicole intends to pursue a career in public health; Nickolas will major in cyber security and forensics.

“These students represent a valuable national resource,” commented a spokesperson for the National Merit program. “Recognizing their accomplishments as well as the key role their schools play in their academic development is vital to the advancement of educational excellence in our nation.”

“With this recognition, these students have joined a truly exceptional group,” said Principal Pease. “I speak on behalf of the entire Mahopac High School community when I say that we are extremely proud of their accomplishment.”
